Dr. Sebastián López Escarcena

Reader and full-time researcher at the Faculty of Law of the Pontifical Catholic University of Chile

Contact data

Address:

Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile

Alameda 340, Facultad de Derecho, 5º piso

Santiago, Chile

Telephone:

56-2-23542125

email:

rlopeze@uc.cl

Short Bio

Sebastián is a reader and full-time researcher at the Faculty of Law of the Pontifical Catholic University of Chile, where he teaches public international law, international state responsibility, international investment law and legal research. He is an associate fellow of the Centre for Global Governance Studies of the Catholic University of Leuven, Belgium. Sebastián has been a guest lecturer at the University of Edinburgh, UK, a visiting scholar at the Catholic University of Leuven and Cornell University, USA, and a guest associate professor at the University of Notre Dame, USA. He has also taught at the Diplomatic Academy, the Judicial Academy and the Military Academy of the Chilean state; worked as academic-secretary of the PhD programme in law of the Pontifical Catholic University of Chile; participated in PhD and LLM examinations at the University of Chile and the University of Concepción, among others; and executed state-funded projects as main researcher, and as co-researcher with a Catholic University of Valparaíso team. Sebastián has been admitted to the Chilean bar, and holds a PhD from the University of Edinburgh, UK, an LLM from the University of Leiden, The Netherlands, and an LLB and BA from the Pontifical Catholic University of Chile.

Research

Sebastián's research focuses in the international protection of property, mostly in international human rights law and international investment law. He has published academic articles, essays, case notes, book reviews, working papers and policy briefs in the Americas and Europe, in Spanish and English. His book on Indirect Expropriation in International Law was published by Edward Elgar in its Leuven Global Governance Series (2014).